Response to applicants' arguments.

Applicants' arguments filed 7-5-05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

It should be noted that applicant's response, although appreciated, does not assist in the expedient prosecuting of the claimed invention in that the Examiner continues to be unable to clearly define the invention in order that an appropriate and more exact search be accomplished. It is the desire of the Examiner to thoroughly search the invention. However, as the applicant should be aware, it is through the joint effort of both the Examiner and the applicants.

35 USC 112, Second Paragraph

Claims 1-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The meaning of every term used in a claim should be apparent from the prior art or from the specification and drawing at the time the application was filed in order to achieve a complete exploration of the applicants' invention and its relation to the prior art. In re Zletz, 893 F. 2d 319, 13 USPQ2d 1320 (Fed. Cir. 1989). In the instant case, Applicants' claim 1 etc. does not define the invention in terms that clearly define the invention. The recited "system" has numerous definitions and intended meanings in the art. It is also noted, while a term used in the claims may be given a special meaning in the description of the invention, generally no term may be given a meaning repugnant to the usual meaning of the term. In re Hill, 161 F.2d 367, 73 USPQ 482 (CCPA 1947).

35 USC 112, Second Paragraph

Claims 1- 33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for the broadly defined "system" the specification on page 2-5 specifically discloses particularly defined polymers, block polymers, heterocyclic structures and multi-cyclic structures that are not commensurate in scope with these claims.

Although the CCPA has criticized the use of the characterization "too broad" or "undue breadth".....however, an application whose claim(s) are of a breadth which are not adequately supported by its specification is in violation of 35 USC 112, first paragraph. In re Borkowski et al., (CCPA 1970) 424 F2d 904; In re Wakefield, (CCPA 1970 422 F2d 897; In re Hammack, (CCPA 197).
